The Postmaster General called Mr. Machen to the department shortly after noon and later he was placed under arrest by the postoffice inspectors.

The charge is that Machen participated in the profits of a certain device used in free delivery boxes and that he participated to the detriment of the government and to his own advantage in certain contracts of the government to the extent of many thousands of dollars. Machen is from Toledo, O. He was appointed to the postoffice department in the second Cleveland administration.

PICKED MEN

ARE STANDING GUARD OVER THE JACKSON JAIL

Curt Jett and Tom White Now Confined in the Bastille Under Military Control.

(Advocate Telegram.)

Jackson, Ky., May 27—The cases of Curtis Jett and Tom White indicted for the murder of J. B. Mareum, were called at the opening of court today by Judge Redwine and passed until June 1.

Jackson, Ky., May 27—Picked men from the militia companies, commanded by Colonel Roger Williams of Lexington, with loaded Winchester are guarding the Breathitt county jail. A Gatling gun so situated that it can sweep every approach to the public square is also a grim reminder of the power of the state. These precautions are now necessary by reason of the fact that Curt Jett and Tom White, who were indicted by the grand jury for the recent murder of Attorney Mareum, are confined in the county bastille.

The arrest of White at his little cabin far back in the very heart of the mountains yesterday and the transfer of Jett to this city from the Winchester jail were unaccompanied by scenes of disorder or violence as was anticipated in many quarters. The president

TENEMENT FIRE

Started by an Incendiary Killed Five People and Injured a Number in New York This Morning.

(Advocate Telegram.)

New York, May 27—In a fire which destroyed the five-story tenement house, 304 and 306 West 13th street, early today, four persons were burned to death and a number were seriously injured. The dead:

Julia Wandling, aged 40.
Charles Wandling, aged 7.
Helen Wandling, aged 4.
George Wandling, aged 7.

The three last named were children of Mrs. Wandling. Many more were injured by jumping from windows before the firemen arrived.

It was the work of an incendiary. Victor Johnson who lived in the tenement saw a man set fire to the waists-coating which had been saturated with kerosene. He gave chase but the incendiary escaped. Soon the building was a mass of flames. Johnson was so badly burned that he will probably die.

In his flight, the fire bug passed policeman Weimar who, thinking that the man was running to turn in an alarm, did not stop him. The man escaped. After turning in an alarm Weimar returned to the tenement. By that time the fire had gone up through the hall way to the top of the building and had there spread to the whole floor. The policeman hammered on all doors he passed and on the third floor he found three children. Making a big armful of the three he carried them down the stairs, through the smoke and fire, his own clothes catching fire and receiving burns which will mark him for life. He returned to the work of rescue, however.

On the fourth floor he found five grown persons who were locked in a back room. He battered in a door, but now finding the entire hall a roaring furnace he carried them to the fire escapes on the front of the building where they were taken down by firemen.

Fireman Wm. D. Rice, of Engine company 37 broke into the flat occupied by the stricken Wandling family on the top floor. As he did so the flames burst out and he was seared from head to foot. Regaining himself he entered and found the father, George Wandling, trying to escape, having in his arms his son Walter, 6 years old. Both were seriously burned. Rice took them to the fire escape and other firemen took them down the ladders. Rice, Wandling and the boy were taken to a hospital, where the condition of the father and son was pronounced critical. When the flames had been crowded back, firemen entered the Wandling flat and found the dead bodies of the mother and children. The position of the body indicated that she had folded her youngest child to her breast and was overcome by the heat and smoke before she could rise from the bed. Both were burned to death in their last embrace. In the middle of the room the bodies of the other children were found.

Victor Johnson, who saw the stranger set fire to the building was severely burned and at the hospital it is said that he could hardly recover.

Walter Wandling died at the Hood Knight hospital, making total of five dead.

POSTAL SCANDALS

Develop in Philippines—One Postmaster Accused of Taking Not Only $2,000 Cash But The Safe Also.

(Advocate Telegram.)

Washington, May 27—The Philippines are having their postal scandals as well as Washington now, or Cuba had in the recent past. Two cases are reported by mail to the war department this morning. One is that of former Postmaster Milne, at Tacloban, Leyte, who is accused not only of taking $2,000 current coin of the United States, but even a 400 pound safe which is supposed to have contained money. He is under arrest. Postmaster Karlsen of Calamba, Luzon, is also under arrest. Some time ago $2,000 disappeared from the mails between the hour it left his office and when it should have reached Manila. Other irregularities are reported and it is feared at the department that investigation of the entire postal system of the Philippines may have to be undertaken.

TRIAL

OF MILLER AND JOHNS TO TAKE PLACE IN CINCINNATI

Where Negotiations Were Inaugurated—The Government Has Checks and Other Documents.

Washington, D. C., May 27—The Postal department is greatly interested in the prosecution of Daniel V. Miller, assistant attorney of the department, and Joseph M. Johns, the latter's arrest having been made at Rockville, Ind., as anticipated.

The department was notified that John's had at Terre Haute, given bond for $1,500 for his appearance before Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis June 25. It is the understanding here that Johns and Miller will be tried in Cincinnati at the October term as it was in the Queen City that it is charged the negotiations took place and the money was paid over.

The checks which figure in the alleged payments to Miller and Johns, which are in possession of the department, are for $3,400. They were supplemented with a cash payment of $1,100. The checks are signed by the Ryan concern and made out to John's order, and indorsed by him. Ryan has agreed to be a witness for the government. He has furnished the department with all the information in his possession, including the documents. Miller left yesterday for Terre Haute, Ind.

The men are charged with conspiracy to improperly influence a judicial act of the assistant attorney general of the Postoffice department. The offense for which Miller and Johns are to be tried is that they conspired together; that for a consideration to be paid by John J. Ryan, of Cincinnati, they would have C. A. C. Christianity, who was acting as assistant attorney general for the Postoffice department, sign a letter setting forth that the business as conducted by Ryan was not in violation of the postal regulations at that time.

PRESIDENT APPEALS

And Hanna as Gracefully as Possible Backs Down. Nothing Now in the Way of Indorsing Roosevelt at Next Week's State Convention.

Cleveland, O., May 27—The political situation in Ohio has changed. Senator Hanna has decided to no longer oppose the endorsement of President Roosevelt by the Ohio Republican convention.

At first Senator Hanna refused to discuss the matter, as wired the Advocate yesterday, a conference of leaders was held in his office, which was attended by General Dick, who had been called over from Akron; E. J. Miller of Columbus, J. J. Sullivan, United States district attorney; Elmer Dover, Charley Leach, Frank Chandler and other local Republicans. Telephone communication was also had with leading Republicans in various sections of Ohio. At the end of the conference Senator Hanna gave out the following statement:

"I am in receipt of a telegram from President Roosevelt which indicates to me his desire to have the endorsement of the Ohio Republican state convention, both for his administration and his candidacy in view of this I shall not oppose any such action by this convention. I have telegraphed the President to this effect."

The Senator refused to say just what President Roosevelt said in his telegram and would not discuss the matter beyond the above statement.

General Dick expressed his pleasure over the decision of Senator Hanna, and stated that it would mean the endorsement of Roosevelt at the coming convention.

The other members of the conference refused to make any statements.

The coming Cuyahoga county Republican convention will have presented to it a resolution indorsing Roosevelt for a second term, and it is now understood that it will have the unanimous support of the delegates.

The friends of Senator Hanna deny that this is a back down on his part, but claim that the Senator has merely acceded to the wishes of the President, this being the first time that he had received any intimation of Roosevelt's position.

When asked what he thought of George B. Cox's statement to the effect that he, Hanna, would be the candidate with Roosevelt out of the way, the Senator merely smiled and remarked:

"I again say that I am not a candidate."

It is the general belief among those close to the Senator that he still doubts the advisability of the adoption of a resolution indorsing President Roosevelt's candidacy by this year's convention.

FORAKER IS PLEASED.

Washington, May 27—Republicans here without reference to state, were heartily glad when word reached them of the decision of Senator Hanna not to oppose the resolutions in the Ohio state convention pledging support to President Roosevelt.

Senator Foraker when told of Senator Hanna's attitude was especially pleased. Foraker's attitude ought to make him solid with the President, and his friends think that Foraker stock will go up some.

CHILD

WHO WAS SHOT BY TEN YEAR OLD BOY DIES

Youthful Slayer Spends Time in Jail at Plainfield, N. J., Reading Novels.

(Advocate Telegram.)
Plainfield, N. J., May 27—Teresa Watson, the 8 year old child who was shot in the abdomen by 10 year old Willie James last Saturday, died at midnight. Her youthful slayer is in the county jail at North Plainfield, spending his time reading yellow backed novels, and boasting of his escapade to anyone who will listen.

The James boy took his younger brother, a sister and the Watson girl on a tramp Saturday and he took along a flint rifle. After walking for hours the little girl became tired and wanted to go back home. Willie called her a deserter and shot her twice, once in the hand and then in the abdomen, the later wound proving fatal. The child concealed her wounds until Sunday night, although suffering great pain. Finally when she told her brother, it was found that gangrene had already set in and all efforts to revive her proved futile. Mrs. James, mother of the boy is poor and has a large family of children, the youngest being an infant in arms. She is now being looked after by the overseer of the poor of North Plainfield township. She admits that her son Willie has been incorrigible for several years and refuses to go to school, preferring to spend his time reading novels.

TERROR

REIGNS IN TOWN OF PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS.

Negress Who Predicts Cyclone is Arrested—Whites and Blacks Hurriedly Leaving Town.

Pine Bluff, Ark., May 27—The reign of terror among the blacks and superstitious white persons continues unabated as the day (May 28) approaches on which Ellen Burnett Jefferson, a young negress, prophesied that Pine Bluff and vicinity would be visited by a cyclone that would wipe the town off the face of the map.

Business is almost paralyzed and negroes are much demoralized. The Sawyer & Austin Lumber Company, one of the largest plants in the state, will suspend operations on the 28th of May and will run a special train out of town on their road for the refuge of 150 or 200 employees.

It is understood that the Iron Mountain and Cotton Belt railroads will also run out on the same day special trains to carry away the terror stricken natives. Many colored people have already vacated, some selling their real estate and personal effects at a sacrifice. Many whites are as panic stricken as the negroes. It has been predicted by a young negro woman that on May 29, "God will destroy Pine Bluff at 5:30 p. m. by a cyclone."

The case has been very much aggravated by a few thoughtless men and boys who have started wild tales of unreasonable things to happen, all purporting to come from the negroes.

From the outlook at present thousands will leave town.

The woman tells of a vision in which she saw two clouds come together from the south, side by side, and falling on Pine Bluff. She heard the cries of women and children in their destruction. She claims she was told to warn God's people to get six miles from town.

The "prophetess" was arrested last night and is now safely lodged in jail. She has been pronounced insane by physicians, and will be taken to the State asylum.

A resident of Sulphur Springs who arrived here says that he has rented every house that he has in his possession at greater sums than ever before obtained. Sulphur Springs is about seven miles from Pine Bluff, just on the outside of the "six mile limit" predicted for the path of the cyclone.

HANNA

Has Been Candidate for President Many Months, it is Claimed at Gallipolis, Ohio.

(Advocate Telegram.)
Gallipolis, O., May 27—"Hanna has been a candidate for President for a year and a half." That is the startling bit of political information that has set Gallipolis politicians to speculating. It was divulged by General Grovernor to a Gallipolis attache of one of the state officers with whom the General was coming to Gallipolis to hold court.

"No; the mammoth structures of the present will not become obsolete so far as their many details for the comfort of the inhabitants are concerned, but they will be chopped up—made on smaller lines—and this solely to meet the wishes of the people, who will, I believe, in the future want more actual comfort for their money."

Basalt Columns in Mexico.
There are columns of basalt in Mexico which may be regarded as one of the natural wonders of the world. They may be seen at Regla falls, and there Alexander von Humboldt saw and admired them when he took his famous journey round the world. As regular and symmetrical these columns are as though they had been fashioned by human hands, and yet they are entirely natural and of volcanic origin. They are of great height, and no one can see them for the first time without becoming greatly impressed.

In Fingal's cave, Scotland, there are columns of basalt somewhat similar to these, and on St. Helena there are others, though the latter, instead of standing erect, are piled together on the ground and look like trunks of trees.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwall, Conn.

HOTELS OF THE FUTURE.

What Simeon Ford Thinks They Will Be Like.

A school of hotel keeping is seriously considered in France, the land of many hotels, which are not always, but usually, good, says the New York World. The proposal is to give "enhanced dignity to a calling which yearly increases in importance."

Mr. Simeon Ford, proprietor of the Grand Union hotel in New York, says of the hotel of the future:

"It will, in my opinion, be the small, quiet, perfectly conducted hotel where good taste takes the place of display and where the guests will not be so numerous that they will be lost in the shuffle, an arrangement so that each one who registers his name and who expects to receive and pay his bill may be looked after properly.

"The hotel of today will never become obsolete, because there is nothing else the big buildings can be used for, but I believe that in the future those ponderous propositions will not be considered the best from the standpoint of a man who wants comfort and his money's worth. Already there is a reaction. Men of standing, when they go to a hotel, like to have the room clerk call them by name; like to be of some importance; like to get their mail promptly and not take their chances with 1,500 others who are looking for the same thing.

"No; the mammoth structures of the present will not become obsolete so far as their many details for the comfort of the inhabitants are concerned, but they will be chopped up—made on smaller lines—and this solely to meet the wishes of the people, who will, I believe, in the future want more actual comfort for their money."

Basalt Columns in Mexico.
There are columns of basalt in Mexico which may be regarded as one of the natural wonders of the world. They may be seen at Regla falls, and there Alexander von Humboldt saw and admired them when he took his famous journey round the world. As regular and symmetrical these columns are as though they had been fashioned by human hands, and yet they are entirely natural and of volcanic origin. They are of great height, and no one can see them for the first time without becoming greatly impressed.

In Fingal's cave, Scotland, there are columns of basalt somewhat similar to these, and on St. Helena there are others, though the latter, instead of standing erect, are piled together on the ground and look like trunks of trees.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwall, Conn.

TARIFF TINKERING.

Just now there is a great outcry by the protection organs against "tariff tinkering." The American Economist leads off with warnings that "prosperity" is endangered if the sacred tariff is touched, and a mighty chorus follows its lead. Every effort has been made to suppress Governor Cummins and his Iowa followers who were inclined to protest against trust exactions, and the efforts have apparently been successful. At the same time it is not apparent why the Republican party should be so shy about "tariff tinkering." It has done enough of it. An official list of tariff bills passed by that party was published by the joint congressional committee in 1898, and it shows the following tariff measures:

- Act of March 2, 1861.
- Act of August 5, 1861.
- Act to increase the duties on tea, coffee and sugar, Dec. 24, 1861.
- Act of July 14, 1862.
- Act of March 3, 1863.
- Joint resolution of April 29, 1864, temporarily increasing duties.
- June 30, 1864, act to increase duties.
- March 3, 1865, act amending certain acts imposing duties on imports.
- Act of May 16 1866, imposing duties on live animals.
- June 1, 1866, act to protect lumbermen.
- Act of July 28, 1866.
- Act of March 2, 1867.
- Joint resolution of March 22, 1867.
- Act of March 22, 1867.
- Act of March 25, 1867.
- Act of March 26, 1867.
- Act of March 29, 1867.
- Act of February 3, 1868.
- Act of February 19, 1869.
- Act of February 24, 1869.
- Act of July 14, 1870.
- Act of December 22, 1870.
- Act of January 30, 1871.
- Act of March 5, 1872.
- Act of April 5, 1872.
- Act of May 1, 1872.
- Act of June 6, 1872.
- Act of June 10 1872.
- Act of March 3, 1873.
- Act of May 9, 1874.
- Act of June 3, 1874.
- Act of June 18 1874.
- Act of June 22, 1874.

Another act of the same date.
Act of February 8, 1875.
On March 4, 1875, the Republican party lost control of legislation and did not regain it till March 4, 1881. Then it resumed business for two years, as follows:

- Joint resolution of March 11, 1882.
- Act of May 4, 1882.
- Act of December 23, 1882.
- Act of March 3, 1883.
- Another act of the same date.
- On March 4, 1883, the Republicans lost control of legislation until March 4, 1889, when it resumed business again, with the following results:

- Act of February 18, 1890.
- Act of June 10, 1890.
- Act of October 1, 1890 (the McKinley law).
- Act of December 15, 1890.
- Act of March 3, 1893.

Again the Republican party lost control of legislation, but resumed on March 4, 1897, with these results:

- Act of July 24, 1897 (the Dingley law.)

Another act of the same date.

This brings the record to the date of the publication, and it shows two tinkers per day on several occasions. Since then there has been more or less tinkering, such as the suspension of the duty on coal, without any industrial disturbance. Most of these acts were not general revision acts, but merely alterations of some special features of the tariff laws, and the record proves that the grosser wrongs of the existing tariff could be remedied without any bad results if the tariff barons would allow it.

The disposition to postpone the day of reckoning for the misadministration of the postoffice department since its present strenuous career began was never better illustrated than Monday, when it became necessary to arrest one of the assistant attorneys in the postoffice attorney general's bureau for accepting a bribe. The first real victim of the long-drawn-out scandals is an Indian, coming from the state whence so many of the present force has hailed. He was put in office by Senator Beveridge and therefore when arrested he was allowed the freedom of his office until bail was furnished. It was even given out "officially" that he had not been arrested, but "would probably be." In this state of affairs Postmaster General Payne tries to smooth over the turn of things by "regretting to report." It is a question whether he has strengthened his case any with the President by appearing to sympathize with Mr. Miller, of Indiana.

The roasting that Governor Pennypacker and the Quay machine is getting from the Republican and Democratic newspapers alike, proves to the Pennsylvania bosses that it is impossible to muzzle the press by any libel law their ingenuity can invent or their partisan malice execute.

The "wets" carried Delaware Monday by a majority that surprised nearly every voter of the city. When the returns were complete it was found that the wets had won the day by a majority of 574.

President Roosevelt's opposition to the "wicked" trusts took flight as soon as it became evident that they could not be reached without a revision of the tariff.

GORMAN
IS THE CHOICE OF CONGRESSMAN
J. H. NORTON.

Maryland Senator Has Been in Line
With His Party and is Free
From Alliances.

Akron, O., May 27.—Congressman J. A. Norton, of Tiffin, while here expressed himself freely on national politics. Asked about Cleveland and his discussed candidacy for the Presidency, Mr. Norton said:

"A great reaction has set in in reference to Mr. Cleveland. He is very strong in the East. The reaction is in his favor and has increased with great rapidity in the last six months. He is especially strong with that branch of the Democratic party that is allied with the banks and business interests of the country. In fact the demand for his nomination is confined solely to the money and wealth-producing classes. But I don't think that the current is drifting at all his way in the West and Middle West. I believe it is utterly impossible for him to be nominated."

"Whom do you consider the most likely candidate at present?" was asked.

"The most in line today with Democratic sentiment is Arthur Pue Gorman, of Maryland," he replied. "He is safe, conservative and marvelously bright, and what makes him especially strong, he has been in line with the Democratic party in all its campaigns. He has always supported the ticket, and has been consistent in his allegiance to the party. I feel sure his name will be presented to the convention. From my own knowledge I feel confident that Mr. Gorman will be a candidate, while I do not think that Mr. Cleveland will allow his name to go before the convention, because he will see the futility of such action. Gorman is free from all national factional alliances, and is so strong a factor in his state again that he also is a logical candidate from a strategic point of view."

"Roosevelt is a bright, erratic, strangely strenuous man, and I believe entirely honest, but no one, after all can name any great things especially that he has done. Whether he will stand the test or not is a serious question. Personally and in a family way he has been an expensive President. I don't believe that Senator Foraker himself means to be a candidate for President, and I think that he is honestly for Roosevelt."

The great number of dyspeptics is increasing daily. His is due to hurried eating and lack of care in selecting proper food.

There is nothing more effective to the run-down digestive organs than pure pepsin, and while pepsin alone corrects the overworked digestive organs a tonic, such as pure port wine, is also necessary to keep them in this condition. KIDNAPED HIS CHILD

Distracted Mother Has Lost Hope of Seeing Her Little Daughter Again--Blacksmith Kendall Has Not Been Located as Yet.

A case of a father kidnaping his daughter, came to light Tuesday evening, and the distracted mother spent half the night in trying to locate her husband and child, finally giving up the search in despair, under the impression that she would never see her child again, at least for a long time. About three weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kendall, lived at Third and Holady streets, and after many family quarrels, it is alleged, Kendall put his wife out of the house, and locked the door. The woman sought friends for shelter, and was welcomed to the home of her life-long friend, Mrs. J. F. Parks, of 56, South Fourth street, where she took her six year old daughter, Eva.

Tuesday morning Kendall took his daughter from her play and sent word to his wife that she would never see Eva again, and thus far he has kept his word. Kendall has sold all his household goods on which there were several chattel mortgages, according to his wife's story, and has left her practically destitute. He is a blacksmith by trade, but of late has been working at the Newark Iron and Steel company, in the West End, as a laborer. At the Ford hotel, where Kendall took the little girl, his wife was told that he had left town, but some of her friends claim to have seen Kendall as late as Tuesday evening, but no one has seen the little girl.

FORGER

WHO WAS FOUND GUILTY IN NEW-AR YEARS AGO

Died at Pueblo, Colo., Tuesday While Under Arrest--He Died From Pneumonia.

The following dispatch from Pueblo, Colo., will be of interest to many Newark people: Pueblo, Colo., May 27--Henry S. Renard, alias H. L. Moody, who was under arrest here on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, died yesterday of pneumonia, aged 70. He was one of the most noted forgers in this country, and had served sentences in Illinois and Ohio. After conviction on a charge of forgery in Chicago he was pardoned by President Harrison, in consideration of his honorable record as an army surgeon during the civil war.

The death of Henry S. Renard, alias H. L. Moody, recalls a circumstance that happened in Newark away back in 1878. During the early part of that year a number of daring forgeries had been committed in this city, some of our principal business men, among them D. D. Jewett, being a victim. For a time the local officers were baffled in their efforts to apprehend the guilty party, but at last suspicion settled on one Lewis Morgan, who had been making his headquarters in Newark for some time. The warrant for his arrest was placed in the hands of ex-Marshall Joseph Griffith, who arrested him in the old Weiland bookstore, while in the act of passing forged paper. He was tried in the Common Pleas court on the charge and was sentenced to the penitentiary under the name of Harry L. Moody, it having been ascertained from correspondence with New York parties that that was the name by which he was known in that city. He was taken to Columbus by ex-Sheriff Scofield and Joseph Griffith and turned over to the prison officials to serve a term of three years. He was released July 3, 1878, for a new trial, but was found guilty and returned November 25, 1879, to serve one year. He was finally released October 24, 1880. When he was received the first time Moody gave his age as 52, and said he was a native of Massachusetts. Upon his return one year later he gave his age as 54 and claimed to be a native of New York.

Milton W. Rhodes of Illinois, is visiting Mrs. Adam Bevard and his mother, who is very sick with rheumatism. Mr. Rhodes was brought up in this county and was a member of the gallant 76th O. V. I. and he is a staunch old Democrat.

Many persons who feel tired, nervous and all worn out--not exactly sick yet far from well--seek the aid of a physician when what they need is a simple tonic--something to brace them up. People thus ailing should try Walther's Peptonized Port. Sold by all druggists. It combines the richest old port wine with the very best of pepsin. It creates a natural appetite, tones up the stomach, cures dyspepsia and indigestion. Many physicians prescribe Walther's Peptonized Port when their patients need a dependable tonic. HARD LUCK

Frank Miller is Having Plenty of It Just Now--A Series of Great Misfortunes.

Frank C. Miller of the B. & O. superintendent's office at Pittsburg is having more than his share of bad luck. Not long ago he was sick at Pittsburg and when able to go about he went west to recuperate. While in Kansas he contracted smallpox and having recovered from that attack he started to return to Pittsburg and was injured in the B. & O. wreck at Mansfield. Mr. Miller came to his home in Newark to recuperate and now he is lying quite ill with typhoid fever at the home of his parents on Indiana street. *****

TESTIMONY

OF WOMAN DIFFERED FROM THE PRISONER'S STORY

Mayor Crilly Heard the Evidence on Wednesday and Assessed Fine Against Fred Hewson.

Fred Hewson, who was arrested by Officer Carroll, on a charge of making a brutal assault and battery on Mrs. William Weible was seen at the city prison Wednesday morning. He said that Mrs. Weible's story was false in every detail, and that all he did was to attempt to get the picture from her, which he handed her for examination. He claims he did not draw a knife or in any way strike or abuse the woman. Hewson claims to have worked for J. P. Morgan, Pierre Lorillard and other prominent men, and told the reporter that he had sent for references to them and others, who knew him. Hewson had a hearing before Mayor Crilly Wednesday morning on a charge of assault and battery, contained in an affidavit filed by Mrs. Josephine Weible.

The prosecuting witness took the stand and told practically the same story that was related in the Advocate's account of the affair, published exclusively on the day it happened, Tuesday.

Hewson and his partner, a man named Beck, both claiming Buffalo, N. Y., as their home, were the only witnesses for the defense. They both say that Mrs. Weible attempted to keep possession of the picture, for which she refused to pay, and that the defendant tried to get it away from her. Mrs. Weible showed bruises on her left arm and scratches on her right wrist, which she had gotten in the struggle.

The mayor said there was no doubt but that the defendant was guilty of assault and battery, but it was a question as to what sentence he should receive, but finally fined him $10 and costs. Attorney B. G. Smythe, attorney for Hewson filed exceptions to the sentence. Solicitor Phil B. Smythe acted as prosecutor of the case.

GIRL

Attempts to End Her Life

By Taking Half Ounce of Laudanum

HER MOTHER HAD TAKEN HER TO TASK

AND LENA DECIDED TO DIE.

Proper Medicine Was Administered and Now the Young Girl is Out of Danger.

An unknown person telephoned a leading drug store last night and excitedly inquired an antidote for morphine poisoning. The pharmacist gave the advice to keep the patient awake and send for a physician.

No names were given and it was with the greatest difficulty that the Advocate obtained a clew to the case late Wednesday afternoon. It develops that fourteen year old Miss Lena Smith who lives with her mother at No. 27 South Buena Vista street had some trouble with her mother, the exact nature of which is not known and she resolved to end her life. When her mother Tuesday evening left the house to go to the place where the girl had been working to procure her clothing the young girl gave her little brother a small amount of money and told him to go to a drug store for some laudanum. The boy bought a half ounce bottle of the drug and as the bottle was empty when the girl was found it is supposed that she took all of it.

Shortly after the boy returned home with the drug he told one of the neighbors what he had done, and said he didn't know what his sister intended to do with the medicine. One of the neighbors entered the house and found the girl in a serious condition.

Help was called and a medicine was administered which had the desired effect and the girl is now said to be out of danger.

When asked if she would repeat the attempt to end her life Lena said that she would not.

It is now said that the mother had upbraided her daughter for some alleged misconduct and that this led to her attempt to end her life.

OUTBREAK

in the New River Coal Field--One Killed and Several Others Injured.

(Advocate Telegram.)
Quinnimont, W. Va., May 27--The first outbreak here since the recent strike order of the United Mine Workers in the New River field went into effect, occurred last evening at the Big C mines, where about four hundred or more non union men have taken the places of the strikers.

The strikers started on a march toward the mine with threatening demonstrations and a dozen or more of the guards on duty opened fire. The fight lasted but a few minutes, possibly a hundred shots being fired before the strikers retired. Marshal Brown, a guard, was killed and another guard was slightly wounded. Half a dozen strikers have flesh wounds but are not seriously wounded. A further outbreak is expected at any time.

MISS ROSE OWENS,
No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

Miss Rose Owens.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without taking any other medicine than a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes:
"I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours. It restores inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Our village was visited with a terrific wind and rain storm Sunday, at the noon hour just as people were coming home from church, which resulted in considerable damage to trees and fences. At 3 a. m. Monday another very severe electrical storm passed through here, which awakened the people from their pleasant dreams with its terrible crash of thunder and sharp lightning which struck in several places, but fortunately with slight damage. Parties who saw the lightning strike the corner of the power house say it was the most beautiful sight they ever witnessed. Little balls of fire were dancing all over the roof and the lights were extinguished for a second, which made a lovely sight.

SENSATION

At Coroner's Inquest When it Was Developed What the Dying Man Had Said.

(Advocate Telegram.)

Ardsley, On the Hudson, May 27—A sensation was caused at a coroner's inquest yesterday when it was stated that a dying man had accused a member of the Ardsley club, composed of New York millionaires, of murder. John Hefferman, a coachman, met Sarah Campbell, a servant at the station last Sunday night. They took a short walk and then sat on the lawn at the Ardsley club. A man suddenly appeared before them and ordered Hefferman to throw up his hands. The latter grappled with the man and was shot three times. Members of the club heard the shots, carried him to the depot and a doctor was called. Hefferman lived only a few minutes. At the inquest yesterday the doctor, who attended Hefferman, said the latter, in his dying moments, accused a member of the club of having done the shooting.

Baltimore, Md., May 27—Charles, William and Joseph Edwards, whose ages are 13, 12 and 9 years, were arrested yesterday on the charge of placing obstructions on the tracks, nearly causing a serious accident to the Royal Blue New York express at Bay View Junction. After piling a lot of iron and old railroad ties on the tracks, the boys seated themselves on a bank waiting to gratify their desires to see the train jump the track. The obstructions were discovered just in time and removed. The lads after being locked up for a couple of hours, were released for a hearing today.

(Advocate Telegram.)

Chardon, O., May 27—A peculiar incident occurred at West Farmington a day or so ago. The commencement exercises of the High school and a funeral were held in the church the same afternoon. The funeral was at 1 and the graduating exercises at 2:30 o'clock. The class had decorated the church for the event previous to the arrival of the funeral party, so that the exercises could commence immediately after the services. The class motto was not covered up. Upon the arrival of the casket it was placed directly under the motto: "Launched, but Whither Bound?" The effect was startling.

Constantinople, May 27—Advices received here report Bulgarian activity in Macedonia, and southern Albania. A dispatch from Serez, Macedonia, states that a plot by Bulgarians to massacre Greek residents was barely frustrated by a Bulgarian prisoner. The governor on hearing of the plot immediately took drastic measures to prevent its consummation. Three of the ringleaders were arrested, including Advocate Theleff and Dr. Gheleff, a relative of the advocate. Seventy-two others were arrested along the frontier and were taken to Serez.

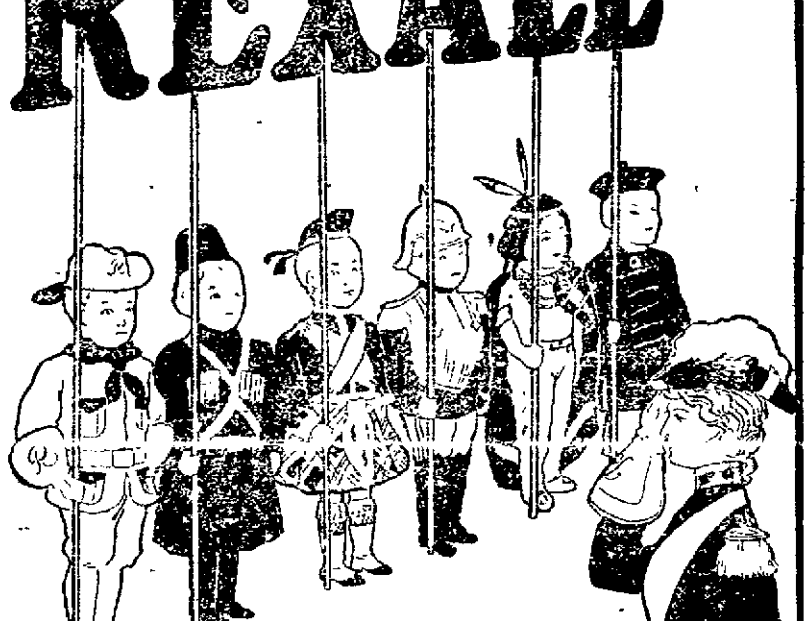

A committee has been formed at Monastir to arrange reprisals against the Bulgarians. Other towns are following the example of Monastir.

Bulgarians are reported to have burned the Greek church at the village of Zagoveri.

A dispatch from Salonica states that the Bulgarians, taken prisoners there for connection with the recent dynamite outrages, threw a companion, who had revealed the secret from the roof to the street below. He was instantly killed.

SHORTHORN CATTLE.

Reminiscences of the Oldest Ohio Shorthorn Breeder John Montgomery of Granville, Licking County--Mr. Montgomery's Paper.

Following is the paper read by John Montgomery of Granville, before the Ohio Shorthorn Breeders' Association:

In conversation with Mrs. C. B. Steward, the honorable secretary of our Ohio Shorthorn Breeders' Association, at our state fair last fall, it came up that the writer of this article was the oldest breeder of Shorthorns in the state. Then followed the invitation for this paper, a word about the early history of Shorthorns and first Shorthorn sales in England, the coming of one of the most noted families into the United States, their spread into Ohio, and the history of Shorthorns in our state, including the contests at state and county fairs.

Tradition carries Shorthorn history back to the year 1300, but nothing authentic is known previous to the year 1830. The earliest Shorthorn bull of which we have any record was the Studley bull calved in 1737, and whose number in the English herd book was 626.

Among the early breeders, and dispersers of, Shorthorns in England were the Collins Brothers who began breeding about 1780. In 1810 Charles Colling had a Shorthorn sale at which forty-seven head, including cows; bulls and calves, averaged $775 a head. In 1818 Robert Colling received at his sale of sixty-one head an average of $649 a head and two years later he had a sale in which forty-six head averaged $245. Thus we see the rise and fall of prices for Shorthorns, for they vary as the finances of the country.

At Mr. Colling's sale in 1810 Mr. Thos. Bates paid $900 for a Duchess heifer from which sprang the Bates Duchess family of Shorthorns. The first importation of this family to the United States was made in 1853 by Morris and Becar, of New York, the Duke of Gloster and Duchess 66th being brought over. In a few years they were bought by Samuel Thorn, of Thorndale, New York, who imported 59th and 68th Duchess, also Grand Duke. These were sold to Sheldon of Geneva, by him to S. Campbell, of Oneida, New York. A. J. Alexander being an Englishman, took a cow and bull of this family to his place. Thus you have traced in your mind the introduction of one of the most noted families of Shorthorns into our country, and I will give you some of the prices they brought when the first sale of them was made.

No females were ever sold from this family outside of this combine (or trust) until the fall of 1873 at the great sale at York Mills. Lord Beattie was there in person and Pavin Davis had sent an agent intending to take back to England the majority of the Duchess family. In conversation with Lord Beattie at this sale, I asked him why they held this family in such pre-eminence. He replied that "there was such a concentration of excellence in their blood that no other bulls made such an impress on their females as Duke bulls."

A combination had been formed by Kentucky breeders with a capital of $60,000 with George and Edward Bedford, Vanmeter, Renick and Brodhead as Alexander's agent, as stockholders. These men expected to take the majority of the Duchess family to Kentucky. After the first Duchess was sold, the combination was broken, they saw the price was too high for their plans.

Alexander's agents bought two heifers, one yearling for $18,000, and a two year old for $28,000. Pavin Davis' agent bid off 8th Duchess of Geneva at $40,000. While bidding and when he had run her up to something over $30,000 he asked how many pounds that made. The crowd laughed, clapped their hands and told him to go on with the dollars, and he became excited, bidding her to the above price. Mr. Davis on receiving a telegram of the price paid, answered not to take her. Afterwards she was sold for $30,000. Lord Beattie bought the 10th Duchess of Geneva for $35,000. The record of this cow shows that she lived and bred until seventeen years old, she and her offspring sold for $300,000, a record unparalleled in the history of Shorthorns.

Another Shorthorn sale of note and made by a breeder of not among Shorthorn men, that of D. McMillen at Xenia, Ohio, which occurred, if I am not mistaken, in the spring of 1870. Here Mignonette brought $3,650, Louan 21st sold for $3,600. The two above were noted in the showing at various state fairs (seldom being excelled). T two year old Louan heifer sold for $3,200 and the general sales ran from $500 up.

In 1844 occurred the sale of J. C. Hamilton (deceased) which I attended. The prices of females ran from $200 up to $6,200, the above price being paid for an Airdrie Duchess of the Alexander Kentucky kind and bought by Palmer and Bowman of Saltville, Va., who also bought the 2nd Duke of Kent for $6,100, of the Kirklevington family, originated by Thomas Bates. A better bull I never saw.

The Barrington family sold to prices next to the above, the leading breeding females bringing $3,000 and up. The writer of this bought a heifer calf just past four months old for $1,000, whose sire was the $6,100 bull 2nd Duke of Kent, dam Barrington Lally 5th, which brought $3,500.

The first importation of Shorthorn cattle to this state was made by the Ohio company in 1834, Mr. Felix Renick of Chillicothe, as their agent, who made a good selection. They were shipped to Philadelphia, and driver over the Alleghenies to Ohio. In 1835 and '36, two more importations were made which landed at New York and passed by the Erie canal to Buffalo thence by lake to Cleveland, and on foot to Chillicothe. In 1836 they were sold at public auction, seventy-five head bringing an average of $900 a head. Thus they were scattered over the state and some of their offspring made their way to Licking county.

RHEUMATISM

An All the Year Round Disease.

Rheumatism does not come and go with winter time always; in fact some suffer more during the Spring and Summer than at any other season. When the blood is charged with Uric Acid, Alkali and other irritating poisons, then the system is in the right condition for Rheumatism to develop, and an attack is liable to come at any time, Winter or Summer. Rheumatism, because it attacks different parts of the body, and is sudden or slow in its action, is given various names such as acute and chronic, muscular, articular, inflammatory, mercurial and sciatic, but it is the same old acid blood that causes all. Some are constant sufferers, while others have only occasional spells of Rheumatism, but either kind is wearing upon the constitution, and in time produces stiffness in the muscles and joints, and sometimes the acids thrown off by the blood settle upon the valves of the heart and ends suddenly and fatally.

It won't do to let Rheumatism run on. It is a dangerous disease, and you can never tell where it is going to strike. Home remedies, plasters, liniments and such things as produce counter-irritation, are soothing and may relieve the pain temporarily, but the polluted, acid blood cannot be reached by external applications. Rheumatism must be treated through the blood, and no remedy brings such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the blood, neutralizes the acids, and removes all irritating poisons and effete matter from the system.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the thin acid blood, and, as it circulates through the body, the corroding, gnawing poisons and acid deposits are dislodged and washed out of the muscles and joints, and the sufferer is happily relieved from the discomforts and misery of Rheumatism.

S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, does not contain any Potash or mineral of any kind, and can be taken with safety by old and young.

Rheumatic sufferers who write us about their case will receive valuable aid and helpful advice from our physicians, for which no charge is made. We will mail free our special book on Rheumatism, which is the result of years of practical experience in treating this disease. It contains much interesting information about all kinds of Rheumatism.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

These importations of the Renicks stimulated cattle breeding in Ohio, the stock was improved and many importations were made up to the time of the Civil war in 1860. Among these importations was, in the year 1854, one Clinton County company, agents H. H. Hankins and Mr. Colter, some of which cattle were for Elias Fassett of Licking county; Clark county made an importation also, Arthur Watts and Alexander Waddle acting as agents. Madison and Union counties each made importations as did the Shakers of Union Village, Warren county.

Up to 1860, Ohio and Kentucky took the lead in Shorthorns; there was quite a strife between the breeders of these two states for premiums at the Ohio State fairs. Among the early breeders of Kentucky Shorthorns who exhibited at the Ohio fairs were Geo. and Edwin Bedford, Abram Renick, Wm. Warfield, T. S. Moberley and the Messrs. Shropshire, Jerry Dunham and A. J. Alexander. The last two were not exhibitors themselves, but much of their breeding was shown at our fairs. These Shorthorn men had to compete with the herds of the following Ohio breeders: Messrs. Renick, Trimble, R. R. Seymour, Daniel McMillen, James and Henry Kirkpatrick, H. H. Hankins, the Coulters, Jesse Hagler, David Selsor, Robert Dunn, Hill and Jones, O. H. Wood, J. M. Black, George Hagerty, O'Bannon, and J. Montgomery, the writer of this, he and the other four last named being from Licking county. I could name many more breeders and exhibitors of Shorthorns, but they would hardly be recognized as early breeders. All these men just mentioned, save the writer, have passed the way of all the earth (the writer now being in his 78th year). They have been an untold blessing to our country and have gone to their reward.

I always had a liking for fine cattle and my appreciation of Shorthorns was first caused by my experience in feeding four Shorthorn steers and a barren heifer about the year 1854. When sold in February the four steers averaged 2,600 pounds, and the heifer 2,300 pounds, at the age of four years. The heifer was bought jointly by C. R. Stark and the writer, fed over one year and shipped by the latter to New York, and sold to Byron Lawrence for $150.

Then my father-in-law, Mr. Benjamin Lane, fed a steer, a descendant of the Renick importation to weigh 2,800 pounds, after passing four years. My first start in breeding Shorthorns began with a cow which was a descendant of the Renick importation, which my wife's father gave to her, and several cows which I bought of the Shakers descendants of their importation into Warren county in 1854, and I began to exhibit at the county fairs.

In 1869 I visited the herd of Daniel McMillen, of Xenia, who had the best herd of Shorthorns then in Ohio. After ter reserving two of his cows he gave me my choice of the rest. I bought eight of these for $7,500.

The first state fair at which I exhibited was the one at Springfield, O., in 1875, where there were the most Shorthorns I ever saw at any state fair, and I have attended all, with the exception of one, of the state fairs held in Ohio. For twenty-one years I exhibited Shorthorns at different points in Ohio. The exhibitors were from Kentucky, Abe Renick, George and Edward Bedford, William Warfield, and the Messrs. Shropshire. From Ohio, H. H. Hankins, David Selsor, Robert Dunn, the Coulter Brothers and John Montgomery, besides others whom I fail to recollect. There were twenty-three cows three years and up, in the ring; William Warfield's Loudon Duchess took first place, and the writer's Fanny Forester took second. The two year old heifers were great in number and quality, the Renicks taking the lead here.

In my herd which I exhibited at Springfield I had a good show of the cow kind, but failed when it came to the bull. I had made arrangements with Mr. John Reber and Mr. Chaney of Lancaster, Ohio, to go to England in search of some Shorthorns, but first concluded to visit some herds in New York. I visited Cornell's at Ithaca, then Walcott's and Campbell's at Oneida. While at S. Campbell's, who had bought Walcott's interest in this great Shorthorn herd, I purchased the 3rd Duke of Oneida 9927, for which I paid $5,000. He was five months old and had to be left for two months to be weaned, with his mother, the 10th Duchess of Geneva, the cow that Campbell afterwards sold to Lord Beattie of England for $35,000, which sale I witnessed. At the time I purchased the 3rd Duke of Oneida I also bought a cow and a heifer for which I paid $2,500.

You will pardon me for bringing my personal transactions into this history, but I thought some might want to know the result of such seeming extravagance, from which Judge Jones of Delaware, said the sheriff would be after me. I will say that the purchase of this bull was the most profitable Shorthorn deal I ever made. You may be the judge.

Prior to this I never sold a bull for more than $200 and I never sold one of this Duke's get for less than $400, and even sold them for as high as $800. Cows came to him to be bred at first for $100 each. David Selsor of Madison county, bred twelve cows to him in one year, one heifer of his get bringing Mr. Selsor $1,500. I shipped one heifer of his get to Geo. Bedford of Kentucky to be bred to the 14th Duke of Thorndale at $200.

Too many cows were coming to the 3rd Duke of Oneida at $100, so I raised the price to $200. I used him in my herd for four years and then sold him to Ware and McGowan of Kentucky for $12,500, and after using him for two years they sold him to Hon. Mark H. Cochran for $8,000 to be used in his herd in Quebec. Here he was used on his Duchess and Scotch bred cows. At the Bow Park herd, in Canada, I saw three Duchess heifers of his get that were just grand. I will not give you an account of a few of the 3rd Duke of Oneida's get at my place, which I put on exhibition at the last fair at which I showed, which was the Ohio state fair in 1876, on the old ground east of the city.

At the head of my herd was the 13th Duke of Granville, cows and heifers in the herd show the 4th Louan of Granville, 9th and 10th Louans of Granville, and the 1st Duchess of Granville, the last three heifers and the 13th Duke of Granville were the get of the 3rd Duke of Oneida. 13th Duke first in class in sweepstakes over all, and at the head of the prize herd. 13th Duke of Granville, 1869, was one of the most noted show bulls in Ohio up to this time, taking seventy-two first premiums before he was six years old. 4th Louan of Granville was first in her class, sweepstakes over all, and in the prize herd.

I would like to speak in closing of some of the prices paid for Shorthorn bulls recorded in the history we have of them. The Duke of Canaught sold in England for $22,000, a son of which I saw at Bow Park, Canada. The next highest price was received for the 14th Duke of Thorndale, sold to George Bedford of Kentucky, for $17,900, 3d Duke of Oneida for $12,500 and 2d Duke of Oneida $12,000.

I have lived to see the ups and downs of Shorthorns in this country. I have given you some of the high prices and then besides these I have seen the time when good Shorthorns, well bred, would bring from $50 to $100. I have seen two periods of this kind, but am glad to know that we are having better days for our Shorthorns and I wish the association prosperity and God's blessing in this great work.

JOHN MONTGOMERY.

Clever Spiders.

I took a large spider from his web under the basement of a mill, put him on a chip of wood and set him adrift on the quiet waters of the pond, says a naturalist. He walked all about the sides of his bark, surveying the situation very carefully, and when the fact that he was really afloat and about a yard from shore seemed to be fully comprehended he looked out for the nearest land.

This point fairly settled upon, he immediately began to cast a web for it. He threw it as far as possible in the air and with the wind. It soon reached the shore and made fast to the spires of grass. Then he turned himself about and in true sailor fashion began to haul in hand over hand on his cable. Carefully he drew upon it until his bark began to move toward shore. As it moved the faster, he the faster drew upon it to keep his hawser taut and from touching the water. Very soon he reached the shore and quickly leaping to terra firma sped his way homeward.

Thinking that he might be a special expert and an exception in that line of boatmanship to the rest of his companions, I tried several of them. They all came to shore in like manner.
